Bachelor of Science Honours in Animal Science and Fisheries (BSc in AS & F) – 04 years curriculum

I have introduced two new courses and actively involved in revising few other existing courses indicated below.

New Courses introduced:

a) Undergraduate course

1. Cell and Molecular Biology in Animal Science

Since molecular and cell biology principles are needed and very sought after for any natural science discipline, I introduced this new course to the BSc. AS & F curriculum and pending the approval.

2. Laboratory Animal Production (together with a colleague of the department).

Laboratory animal use and handling are becoming a very sought-after skill in today's research and development industry and higher education. Therefore, I was instrumental to introduce this new course to the curriculum which is pending the approval.

(b) Postgraduate courses

After returning from PhD at the University of Hong Kong, I was instrumental to introduced two unique courses to the Board of Study in Animal Science, in Postgraduate Institute of Agriculture (PGIA) and also involved in revising the course capsules/contents of few other courses listed below in year 2013.

New courses

01. Introduction to Molecular Biology in Animal Science (AS 5136)

The Board of Study in Crop Science has been offering postgraduate programmes (M.Sc., M.Phil. and Ph.D.) with four main study programmes. i.e., Animal Science, Dairy and Meat Science, Poultry Science and Aquaculture and Fisheries. Since molecular biology knowledge is an essential in current research and development in natural sciences, giving special emphasis to Animal Science discipline, this course was introduced by myself and offered to the students.

02. Cell Biology in Animal Science (AS 5264)

Cell biology is an essential primary knowledge in the research and development in Animal Science and allied sciences. Therefore, to strengthen the M.Sc. programmes of the BoS Animal Science, this course was formulated by myself and offered to the students at PGIA.
